Rise in Price of Food is Causing Intense Distress

China Retaliates on Russia for Declaring Martial Law.

Czar Sends Wine to Wounded Soldiers—Alliance With Great Britain Now Seriously Discussed by Russian Diplomats—Japs Victorious in Skirmish—War News of the Day.

LONDON, March 29.—The Paris correspondent of the Times this morning wires that a St. Petersburg telegram has been received there stating that the Russians are less optimistic regarding the outcome of the war in the far East. The telegram says an article in the Novoe Vremya is attracting much attention. The writer says it is as difficult to foresee the course of the campaign as to predict whether it will be foul or fair weather. He compares Japan at the present day to Russia at the time of Peter the Great and Catherine II., adding:

"In those days Russia was not afraid to take up arms against foes of unknown strength. She conquered mighty Sweden and dealt terrible blows at Turkey. Was not that as bold as what Japan is doing in daring to attack the Russian colossus? We know little of the enemy. Certain, however, that he is brave, bellicose, peridious and cunning, like all the half savages of the East." The writer concludes by counseling the people to be calm and patient.

VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON LOCATED.

ROME, March 29.—Agenzia Libera today reports that a portion of the Russian Vladivostok squadron, the location of which has long been in doubt, has arrived at Nikolievsk, Siberia, at the mouth of the Amur river. Agenzia further reports that the Russian army corps has left Harbin, Manchuria, for Chang Chun. General Kuropatkin, commander in chief, has reached Mukden and established his headquarters there. One of his first acts, continued the Agenzia, on his arrival at Mukden, was to ask for an interview with General Ma, commanding the Chinese troops. Ma refused to be interviewed.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—(Bulletin)—The financial situation in many cities of Russia is fast becoming alarming. Most of the banks at Vladivostok have been closed on account of the scarcity of ready money, thus making it impossible to cash checks. The rise in the price of food is also causing intense distress at many places. At Warsaw bread, potatoes and greens have been quadrupled in price. The pawnshops are crowded, many private ones being forced to close, all their ready cash being used up in loans. Charitable institutions are in many cases unable to relieve the distress among the poorer classes. Robberies are increasing, pilferers are becoming bolder than ever. The same state of affairs as prevails at Warsaw holds true at Moscow, Kiev and Tver.

CHINA RETALIATES.

Harbin, March 29.—A message received here today states that the Chinese government is retaliating on Russia for declaring Niu Chwang under martial law. The Chinese maritime authorities, according to the message, have stopped vessels from taking fruit from Chinese ports to Niu Chwang on the ground that fruit is contraband.

SENATE CRITICISES AUTHORITY FOR RECENT PENSIONS ORDER

Washington, March 29.—The Senate for three hours discussed the recent order of the pension bureau making old age an evidence of disability and then passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

The discussion of the pension order was heard on the resolution offered some days ago by Mr. Carmack, directing the committee on the judiciary to inquire into the authority of the executive branch of the government to make such an order. Mr. Carmack contended that no such authority exists, but several Republican senators argued that the order was in line with the regulation issued by Judge Lochren, commissioner of pensions under Mr. Cleveland, fixing 65 years of age as an evidence of infirmity. They also declared that the new order would have only the effect of affording prima facie evidence of disability and not that of giving a pension solely because the age of 65 years had been reached by the pension applicant.

NO REBELLION THIS SPRING

Macedonians Will Delay Their Uprising.

In Order to Give Powers Time to Carry Out Their Proposed Reforms
Sarafoff Talks

Sofia, March 29.—M. Boris Sarafoff, the Macedonian leader, today told your correspondent that the Macedonian insurgents had decided not to raise a rebellion this spring. They would delay the uprising, he said, in order to give the Powers time to carry out their proposed reforms and also to prove to the world that the Macedonians were willing to allow such reforms to be instituted. He expressed a conviction, however, that the Powers would soon be convinced that Turkey would not tolerate any reforms as the Turkish people are fanatics, who will never tolerate a Goanour as an equal.

If war between Bulgaria and Turkey broke out, Sarafoff added, then the Macedonian insurgents would do their best to liberate their country.

SHE SLEW HER AGED MOTHER

Miss Emily Davis Sent to Insane Asylum.

Woman Struck Mother With Stick Saying "This is the Bayonet That Killed Tom."

Marietta, O., March 29.—Miss Emily Davis, aged 58, was yesterday committed to the State Hospital in Athens. In a fit of insanity she killed her aged mother.

During the civil war the Davis family was one of the most influential, socially and politically, in this county. Miss Emily was a noted beauty, and took an active part in the patriotic demonstrations of the times. Her only brother, Thomas, enlisted in a local regiment and became a sergeant. At the battle of Chickamauga he fell, a Confederate bayonet having pierced his body.

When the news of the death reached Miss Emily she fell in a faint, from which she recovered with her reason gone. All effort to restore the strength of her mind has been futile. On account of the prominence of the family she was kept at home with the exception of a short time, when she was in a private sanitarium. She had not been violent until recently. In one of these fits she charged upon her mother with a heavy broom handle, shrieking, "This is the bayonet that killed Tom."

She does not realize her condition or the tragedy which it has brought about.

Louisville, Ky., March 29.—The ashes of Col. C. M. Strader, formerly of Louisville, who died in Philadelphia, March 6, will be thrown into the Ohio river at midnight Thursday night in the presence of a number of old friends named in his will. The ceremony will take place on the center span of the Big Four bridge and the ashes will be cast into water by H. M. Strader, a nephew, who received them by express yesterday. In his will Col. Strader requested that his ashes be cast on the beautiful waves of the Ohio, and that if the angel Gabriel could find them after this performance he would greet his friends on resurrection morning. Colonel Strader was a free thinker and a veteran of the civil war.

DUEL

Fought on the Train in Kentucky

CONDUCTOR WAS FATALLY INJURED

City Marshal Daniels Shot Three Times.

TRIED TO ARREST TRAINMAN

On a Warrant Charging Him With Blocking the Streets of Burlington With Train.

Bergen, Ky., March 29.—Queen and Crescent Conductor Beauchamp was last night taken to Lexington, Ky., in a dying condition, and City Marshal Will Daniels lies at his home with three bullet holes in his arm, the result of a duel with pistols on the train of which Beauchamp was conductor.

The affair occurred shortly after 7 o'clock and is the result of a contention between the municipality of Burlington and the Queen and Crescent train crews.

Recently several trainmen have been arrested and fined for the violation of city ordinances providing against the blocking of streets by waiting trains. Several days ago a train under charge of Conductor Beauchamp, it is claimed, laid at a crossing for a longer time than the ordinance permits, and a warrant was issued for the conductor's arrest. The instrument was placed in the hands of City Marshal Will Daniels to serve, and he has since laid for Beauchamp.

Last evening when the train pulled in under charge of Beauchamp, the Marshal was notified, and boarding it, attempted to arrest the conductor. The train started, and the Marshal insisted that it be stopped. Here various accounts of the terrific encounter differ. Some maintain that Daniels laid hold of the conductor, while others assert that he just started toward him with the announced intention of taking him by force.

Both men drew their revolvers and began shooting. The passengers fled or crouched beneath the seats, while the determined men poured lead at one another.

After Daniels had been shot three times in the arm Beauchamp sank to the car floor, a bullet having pierced his left breast just above the heart. Beauchamp was also shot in the arms. He was cared for temporarily by the train crew and passengers until surgeons could arrive, when he was hurried by train to Lexington under the care of two surgeons.

It is said that he was in a dying condition and his death was expected momentarily.

Daniels was taken to his home and his wounds dressed. None of them are dangerous.

Conductor Beauchamp is a married man, and resides with his family at Strader, Ill. His wife was notified of the shooting by wire.

As near as could be learned from the excited passengers and trainmen, Conductor Beauchamp contended that Marshal Daniels had no right to place him under arrest while the train was in motion, which he claimed was the case when approached by the officer. Daniels, it is said, contends that the train was not in motion when he approached the conductor, and notified him that he was wanted. He claims that the conductor caused the train to start after he saw what was up.

AGED COUPLE DIE TOGETHER

Suicide Follows Loss of Fortune and Home.

John B. Altman and Wife Left a Note Telling Why They Took Their Own Lives.

St. Louis, March 29.—After earning and losing $50,000 in New York City, John B. Altman and his wife when about to lose their home in St. Louis, decided to die together and turned on the gas. The pair left a note saying that they had agreed to die after chloroforming a pet cat, which was all they had untrammelled by debts. The cats' body was found in the cellar.

Altman who was 68 years of age and his wife, Julia, came to the United States 15 years ago. They accumulated half a million dollars by speculation in New York City, lost nearly all their fortune by signing notes for friends, and removing to St. Louis, purchased a home with the remnant of their fortune. This home was mortgaged and the mortgage was about to be foreclosed.

GEN. MILES' VOICE AGAINST IMPERIALISM

Says That Only Patriotism Can Preserve Republic

Democracy is Our Salvation Says the Army Commander.

Citizens' Votes in Coming Election Will Bless or Embarrass Our Future—Letter Written by the Former Army Commander to Grand Rapids Club.

Washington, March 29.—Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, retired, formerly commander-in-chief of the United States army, sent a letter of regret to the Democratic club of Grand Rapids, last evening. Owing to the floods the banquet was abandoned. General Miles authorized the publication of the letter, which is as follows:

"Patriotism comes nearest the heart of every true citizen of our Republic. It is especially fitting to give it serious consideration at this time, when we are menaced by serious evils—when we are approaching an important crisis in our political history, and the weal or woe of this republic will depend upon the intelligence and patriotism of the sovereign voters. Their action during the important event of the coming autumn will bless or seriously embarrass the future of this country. In fact, the perpetuity of our democratic government depends, not upon the presence of great armies, the will of a despot, or the dictation of any ruler, but entirely upon the patriotism of our citizens. Men have been actuated by motives of most selfish ambition or merciless avarice under the plea of advancing civilization.

"The highest, noblest and grandest of all men was that character who is not only first in war, but first in peace. He desired to protect our nation from running the course that had hitherto marked the destiny of nations, and it was his prayer that the 'free constitution might be sacredly maintained and its administration conducted with wisdom and virtue,' that the 'happiness of the people under the auspices of liberty might be made complete,' and that they 'might have the glory of recommending it to the affection and adoption of every nation that was as yet a stranger to it.

"Yet the noblest act of patriotism of that great man was when he set the example for all time in declining continued authority. The imperial powers that were within his grasp did not allure him from the path of duty. Having rendered his country an incomparable service, like Cincinnatus, he was proud to take his place amid the citizens of his country as one of them, a title and position that he regarded as the highest among mortals.

"It is the men who exercise the power of citizenship that are responsible for honest and efficiency in our public affairs. The first requisite to

BRANNOCK BILL MEETS OPPOSITION

Governor Herrick Against Passage of Measure.

It is Now Predicted That the Governor Will Veto the Bill If It Passes the Senate.

Columbus, March 29.—(Bulletin)—

In an authorized interview this afternoon Governor Herrick opposed the passage by the Senate of the Brannock district option bill. The Governor says the bill is full of errors, doubtful and practical measure and very likely unconstitutional. His statement is considered very significant in view of the situation in the senate in which the final vote on the bill will be taken not later than Tuesday next. It is now predicted the Governor will veto the bill if it passes the Legislature.

BRANNOCK BILL HEARING BY SENATE COMMITTEE THURSDAY

Columbus, O., March 29.—Chairman Stewart of the Senate judiciary committee on cities are being flooded with letters demanding the passage of the bill. From the tenor of the letters the senators are inclined to suspect that the Anti-Saloon league have been keeping the mail men in their districts busy. The Chaboga senators found large mails awaiting them yesterday, the letters for the most part protesting against the passage of the measure. Both sides in the controversy are active.

The Chisholm bill, providing for the sale of pools at fairs and race tracks, has been referred by the Senate judiciary committee to a sub-committee, consisting of Senators Henstein and Cassatt. They have not given the bill consideration as yet.

TAX RECEIPT

NEARLY 100 YEARS OLD FOUND BY JAMES T. ORR.

Wm. Harris Paid $1.25 a Year on Sixty Acres of Land Near Linnville in 1809.

Mr. James T. Orr of Bowling Green township, brought to the Advocate of office Tuesday afternoon one of the oldest tax receipts in existence in this county. Mr. Orr says that he found the receipt at his farm house some time ago. It reads as follows:

"1808 2d Sept. Then received of Wm. Harris one dollar and twenty-five cents, being in full for his land and county tax for the year 1809.

"By Abraham Bennett, Collector."

About twenty years ago Mr. Orr bought a sixty acre tract of land at administrator's sale from the Harris heirs. The property is located near Linnville. It is supposed that the $1.25 paid Mr. Harris' tax on this tract of 60 acres for the year 1809.

The receipt is written in ink on a scrap of paper. The ink is much faded, but one with little trouble can read the writing.

At DeGraff, O., Dynamited and Robbed. The Burglars Succeeded in Getting Away.

Springfield, O., March 29.—The post office at DeGraff, a small town in Logan county, south of Bellefontaine, was entered and the safe blown with dynamite.

Postmaster Irwin refuses to say how much money was secured, but the amount is thought to exceed $300.

The burglars were evidently professionals and unusually bold, but they made good their escape.

St. Petersburg, March 29.—The papers today are commenting at considerable length on the alleged recommendation of Sir Robert Hart, director of maritime customs for China to the Chinese government that it create a European trained army by levying a universal land tax. The increased revenue from this source, he is alleged to have claimed would be from $6,000,000 to $90,000,000 liangs. The Novoe Vremya speaking of the advice says Hart is very simple if he thinks China would be able to create a capable army "inside the 24 or 30 months during which the war between Russia and Japan will last."

Chas. Bradley Has Resigned--Pennsy Makes Improvements at Chas. Freight House--Does B. & O. Want Coxe Plant?--To Fight Austin Bill--Personal Mention.

Charles Bradley, who for some time past has been the efficient wreck master of the B. & O. wreck crew at this place has resigned his position to take service in the same capacity with the Erie. Does B. & O. Want Coxe Plant?
Mt. Vernon, O., March 29--The Banner says that a rumor is in circulation that the B. & O. railroad company is making an effort to secure the Coxe plant for the purpose of converting the buildings into a large car building works. It is said that the shops of the B. & O. at Baltimore have become too small and branch shops will be necessary. It is said that the company is making a great effort to secure the Coxe buildings and that a large addition would be added.

To Fight Austin Bill
Columbus, O., March 29--A determined effort is to be made by the passenger men of the state to defeat the Austin bill, now pending in the Ohio Senate, which seeks to require the sale of mileage books on Ohio roads at $20 per thousand miles, and a large number of them are now gathering in this city from various parts of the country. They propose to have a meeting with the committee on railroads and telegraphs of the Senate and discuss the measure.

Defrauded Pullman.
Chicago, March 29--Through a system of clever forgeries the Pullman company has been defrauded of a large sum of money on refund fares. Five indictments have been returned against Clarence G. Rice, who is being sought by detectives. Rice, it is alleged, gave many assumed names, and traveled on Pullman cars for long distances, after which he would present a refund fare check.

From the Pan Handle Annual.
In the annual report of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis railroad for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1903, President A. J. Cassatt, referring to the cost of improvements, says:
"In order to meet the further expenditures that will be required upon your lines from time to time in the construction of additional main tracks, increase of terminal yards, shops and other facilities, the elevation of tracks of the company in Chicago and to provide for the payment of underlying bonds of constituent companies maturing in the immediate future, the board authorized the creation of series 'F' of the consolidated mortgage bonds in the sum of $10,000,000, bearing interest at 4 per cent per annum and running for 50 years from Dec-

JEWELRY

SILVERWARE AND OTHER GOODS STOLEN IN SEPTEMBER

From Residence of L. P. Schaus Found in a Vacant Lot by Mr. D. M. Black Monday

The residence of Hon. and Mrs. Lewis P. Schaus, on Hudson avenue, was entered by burglars last September, during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Schaus, and jewelry, silverware, and other articles were taken. No clue was discovered as to the identity of the thief and after the matter was practically dropped.

Monday afternoon, while passing through a vacant lot nearby, Mr. D. M. Black noticed a suit case, partially concealed by a pile of boards, and bearing the initials of Mr. Schaus. Mr. Black took the suit case to the Schaus residence, and when opened was found to contain the stolen articles.
The matter has been reported to Chief Sheridan, of the police department.

OUTDOING EXPECTATIONS

Not so very long ago Frank D. Hall, one of Newark's most enterprising druggists, succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow him to sell their Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, as an introductory offer.
The results of this advertising have been phenomenal, and there has been hardly a week without Mr. Frank D. Hall being obliged to order fresh supplies.
Mr. Frank D. Hall, in commenting upon the great success that followed the adoption of his suggestion, not only in Newark, but in other places, showed The Advocate a letter from D. F. Davis, of Barre, one of the best known druggists in Vermont. Mr. Davis wrote: "The success of Dr. Howard's Specific in our city is wonderful. I received my first consignment the last of July, and since then have sold hundreds of packages, and cannot get it fast enough to keep my customers supplied. I have not had a single bottle returned, although I have guaranteed every one, and have heard nothing but praise of its merits. This is a record unsurpassed by any remedy that I have sold in the twenty-five years I have been in the drug business."

Mr. Frank D. Hall does not know how much longer he will be able to continue selling Dr. Howard's Specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price, but will as long as his present supply holds out. Some of his customers have said they would pay a dollar a bottle rather than be without it. 3-29-29:4-19

CREATES SOME EXCITEMENT IN BEECH WOODS.

Dozen Other Dogs and Several Cats Bitten by the Animal Before He Was Killed.
Thornville, O., March 29--The residents in the vicinity of Beech Woods were thrown into a state of great excitement several days ago when it was learned that a dog belonging to Henry Baum had gone mad. The dog had raided the country for miles and fought all the other dogs before he was killed. He had been penned in a box but liberated himself by gnawing his way through the box. A dozen dogs besides many cats that were bitten by the rabid animal, have been killed while other dogs have been penned, tied and muzzled by their owners and all precautions taken to prevent the spread of hydrophobia.

Senator Hoar sought to throw new light and a new interpretation on the civil service law in a brief speech he has just made. He argued that the purpose of the law had been misunderstood, and that the old theory that to the victors belong the spoils, which was declared to be commendable by Marcy, had much to commend it. This has passed away to a great extent, and appointments are not made on the ground of "political faith," but on the plan or principle of allegiance to a particular political chieftain. The vital question is not whether the appointee is a Republican in honorable standing with his party, but is he "a political chieftain," owing allegiance to Quay, or Foraker, or Dick, or Platt, as the case may be? Senator Hoar's idea is that politics in this country has reached a state of feudalism, and the war for preferment or favor is between irresponsible barons or "political chieftains" intent on the loaves and fishes for their retainers. The facts are apparent in the great states that have their great bosses or "chieftains."

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt has so far been unable to corral a chairman of the Republican National Committee or a candidate for the Vice Presidency. ENGLISHMAN
Says If Only Truth Had Been Printed in America There Would Have Been Less Bitterness.
(Communicated.)

indicted for high treason. He was premier of Cape Colony at the time, and tried to stop Jameson, but found he had cut the wires. The pardons granted to the other leaders who were sentenced to death cost them 20,000 pounds each. Can you give any reason why the American papers enjoy raking up that old story about English capitalists endeavoring to obtain possession of the Transvaal as soon as gold and diamonds were found there, when you remember that the American, French and German capitalists combined outnumbered the English capitalists and were just as dissatisfied to pay nine-tenths of the taxation and yet have no vote, as were the English? I (as an Englishman) like the American people and believe that had the truth and nothing but the truth been printed in the different papers of the United States during and after the Boer war there would have been less bitterness against England and everything English by Americans than there is today. Yours truly,
F. C. S.

BEWARE THE "IDES OF MARCH"

Whatever money you have on hand April 10, 1904, must be returned for taxation, or the tax inquisitor will hunt you out. The assessor cannot "touch" you, if your surplus funds are invested before that dreaded date, in the Preferred Stock of The Newark Telephone Company, issued to extend the plant and increase the earnings, for the stock is NON-TAXABLE, under the law, because the company pays all the taxes. There is no "statutory liability" connected with the ownership of this stock.

Nor will there be any occasion for you to worry as to the safety of the investment. You get your six per cent. payable semi-annually on July 1st and January 1st. Put your money into Newark Telephone Preferred before the "Ides of March" and let the tax assessor do the worrying.

The undersigned will gladly show you the plant and answer all questions about the stock.

WITH A CORPSE
Polly Was Sleeping and His Fright May Cause His Death

Jackson, Ky., March 28.—L. C. Ford of Louisville, dealer in curly walnut stumps, was found dead in bed at the Hoard hotel. In the same bed, lying by the side of the corpse, was Cain Polly, one of the employees.

When aroused and informed that his bedfellow was a corpse Polly was so badly frightened that he sprang from the bed and rushed to the street in his night clothes. He was frenzied and collapsed on reaching the street. Three doctors have been working with him all day with chances against his recovery. Both Ford and Polly have been drinking heavily for several weeks.

SEN. BURTON FOUND GUILTY

Protected Interest of the Rialto Grain Company-- Admitted That He Accepted $500 a Month as the Company's Lawyer--Motion for New Trial.

St. Louis, March 28.—Joseph Ralph Burton, senior United States senator from Kansas, was convicted by a jury in the United States district court on the charge of having accepted compensation to protect the interests of the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis before the postoffice department. The jury deliberated 41 hours.

A motion for a new trial was immediately filed by the counsel for the senator. Judge Adams, thereupon, ordered that Senator Burton appear in court, either in person, or by proxy, at 10 o'clock from day to day until the court has heard the arguments for a new trial and, if decided against him, to fix his punishment.

For a time there threatened to be a disagreement in the jury. The jury was brought before Judge Adams, who asked the cause for the long delay. He was told that 11 jurors had agreed, but the twelfth stood alone.

The court admonished the lone juror that the expense of a new trial should not be incurred because of him failing to agree with the majority of the jurors.

Soon after the jury reported, bringing in a verdict, but Judge Adams found that the third count in the indictment had not been considered, and again he sent the jury back to consider the case.

The third time the jury entered the courtroom the result of its deliberations was announced.

At the time word was received that the jury was ready with the verdict Senator Burton had gone to the Southern hotel.

A marshal was sent to notify him to appear in court. The senator took his seat by the side of his attorney, Mr. Lehmann, and looked the jurors in the face as they entered.

"Have you reached a verdict in the case?" asked the judge.

"We have," said the foreman.

"Read it to the clerk," said the court.

Judge Adams looked at the verdict and said: "You have made no disposition of count three."

"We have agreed as to that," said Charles Wall, the foreman.

The judge instructed the jurors to retire and include their findings as to count three in the written verdict. During the 15 minutes the jury was out not a word was spoken in the courtroom.

"We, the jury find the defendant guilty on counts one, two, six, eight and nine in the indictment and not guilty on count three."

There was no perceptible change in Senator Burton's countenance when the verdict was read.

Court having adjourned, Senator Burton calmly lighted a cigar and turning to his attorneys and his private secretary, Colonel W. W. Smith, began a conversation in a low tone. He appeared completely composed.

Each count constitutes a separate offense and the penalty provides a penitentiary sentence of two years or a fine of $10,000 on each count.

The evidence adduced against Senator Burton may be summarized as follows:

In November, 1902, he accepted a proposition to become general counsel of the Rialto Grain and Securities company, a concern whose operations at the time were under the scrutiny of the postoffice department.

Burton demanded $2,500 for his services, but he was satisfied to be paid in monthly installments of $500 each. Soon after his employment it developed that the federal grand jury was investigating the Brooks Brokerage company, with which Major Hugh C. Dennis, president of the Rialto company, had been associated.

Numerous letters written by Burton showed that the senator was using his influence to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto Grain and Securities company.

Burton submitted regular reports to the Rialto people, telling them how matters were progressing in Washington, advising them of complaints filed with the Postoffice department, and closing with the assurance that "if you look after things at your end of the line I will attend to matters here."

Testimony of postoffice officials showed that Senator Burton had told them he intended to practice before the department, that he had lost $70,000 in the panic, and desired to make some money as a practicing lawyer.

Senator Burton was indicted in January last. Although, as a member of Congress he could not be arrested until after that body adjourned, he voluntarily surrendered himself to the proper authorities. He still has two years to serve in the Senate.

Senator Burton's only recourse is an appeal to the United States Circuit court of Appeals, which body is the final arbiter in his case.

If the verdict is sustained Senator Burton will lose his seat in the Senate and forever be prohibited from holding any office of public trust.

MINORITY

Washington, March 28.—Representative Gillett, of California, has prepared and submitted for the minority a report against the resolution adopted by a majority of the committee on Judiciary to impeach Judge Swayne, of the Northern District of Florida, for high misdemeanors. Every ground urged by the committee for impeachment is attacked.

Regarding the nonresident charges, Mr. Gillett asserts that Judge Swayne resided in Florida, and the boundary of his district was changed. Then he moved, but was unable to get a house in which to live. As to absence from his post he was frequently sent to Alabama, Louisiana and Texas. O'Neal, he says, was imprisoned only after his suit for an injunction had been dismissed, and his efforts to secure a writ of habeas corpus had failed.

The Hoskins affair is mentioned, it being stated that young Hoskins took books of his father's which were material evidence in the bankruptcy case, and when ordered to produce them hid away and finally killed himself. Mr. Gillett declares that Judge Swayne has a good record as a judge.

Mr. Gillett is authority for the statement that the report will be signed by himself, Chairman Jenkins and Representatives Nevin, Thomas, Warner and Pearre were absent at the time the vote was taken, but Mr. Gillett believes they also will sign the minority views, which would divide the committee, nine against, eight for impeachment.

JURY
Has Awarded Miss Anderson the Full $75,000 Demanded From James N. Abeel.

New York, March 28.—A sheriff's jury took testimony upon which to determine how much of the $75,000 demanded by Eleanor L. Anderson from James N. Abeel he can afford to and ought to pay her for engaging to marry her under the name of J. Ogden Goelt.

Miss Anderson sued him for $75,000 for breach of promise of marriage. The young man failed to answer the complaint and a default was taken upon which presiding Justice Van Brunt, of the Appellate division of the Supreme court, granted an order to Sheriff Erlanger to impanel a jury and assess damages.

Testimony was given to show that Abeel had a contingent interest in a large estate left by his grandfather, and a prospective interest in the estate of his father, who is wealthy. The jury assessed the defendant for the full amount claimed.

ASSESSORS' PAY

Would be Increased by Senator Silberberg's Bill—Says That Assessors Need More Money.

Columbus, O., March 28.—At the request of Auditor Lewis, of Hamilton county, Senator Silberberg presented a measure which aims to increase the pay of assessors from $2 to $4 a day and to pay assistant assessors $3 per day.

Senator Silberberg makes no excuse for the bill except to say that the assessors need the money. He says in cities the work is limited to a very short time and that $2 is not enough. In the smaller communities the present pay is considered fair, inasmuch as the assessors occupy six or eight weeks in the work. However, the bill increases the pay of all alike.

THE ROMANTIC WEDDING OF A NEWARK GIRL

Miss Jessie Parson Who Left Newark Last January to Meet Her Future Husband Whom She Had Never Seen Was Married Last Tuesday.

The wedding of Miss Jessie Parson took place Tuesday evening of last week at Vicksburg, Miss., where she became the wife of Mr. Robert Goodlet. It will be remembered that Miss Parson is the young Newark woman who conducted a courtship along the moonlit paths of leap year love-making. The newly married couple corresponded for some time and the bride never saw her future husband until she arrived in Vicksburg last January. It was first arranged for Mr. Goodlet to come to Newark to claim his bride but business engagements would not allow him to leave the south and Miss Parson consented to go to him. She left Newark last January and Mr. Goodlet will make their home at Greenville, Miss.

AN INSANITY EXPERT EXAMINES BERT NASH

Dr. Stockton Superintendent of the Columbus State Hospital Will Testify Before Probate Judge—The Hearing Late This Afternoon.

The hearing of testimony in the case of Herbert J. Nash, who shot and killed Albert Kettle Monday of last week at Appleton, will be resumed this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Probate court before Judge W. A. Irvine.

The most important witness will be Dr. George D. Stockton, superintendent of the Central Insane Asylum at Columbus. Dr. Stockton made a thorough and detailed examination of Nash Sunday, and it is understood that he will offer testimony of a rather startling nature. Just what the eminent specialist's opinion will be as to the sanity of the Appleton man is not known.

Dr. Stockton is of the opinion that Nash is not suffering from catarrh or from his liver troubles, but that he is in the last stages of consumption and that he has not long to live.

The case is one of some peculiarity, inasmuch as it makes prominent a danger which is not provided for in the state laws. The question for Judge Irvine to decide is whether Nash is insane at the present time and not at the time he killed Kettle. If Nash was suffering with a temporary fit of mental aberration at the time he shot Kettle and has since regained his sanity then the probate judge cannot declare him insane. Under these circumstances Nash, if indicted by a grand jury, would be tried on the common pleas court before a jury and if found to be insane at the time of the committing his diabolical deed he would be cleared of the charge of murder and turned loose from the community in which he wrought such havoc. It is a well known fact that the criminal insane are the most liable to recurrent attacks of insanity and herein lies the danger.

There has long been a desire among those having charge of the state institutions for insane and feeble minded people, to provide a place for the criminal insane.

CRITICISM OF AMERICA

Sir Philip Burne-Jones' Impressions of the New World.

NEWPORT PALACES VERY UGLY.

British Artist Has Written a Book Wherein He Tells What He Considers Our Shortcomings—He Had Expected Unattended Girls Would Make Him So Welcome.

Sir Philip Burne-Jones, having spent the year 1902 in the United States, devoted a portion of the year 1903 to writing an account of his impressions of the new world, which is published by D. Appleton & Co., says the New York Herald.

He is frank, but not as a rule offensive in his criticism. He repeats some of the old indictments against crudities of manners and of culture, and he adds some new strictures of his own, but at the same time he does justice to the energy, the intelligence and especially the kindness and hospitality of all the people whom he met.

Here was the preconceived vision of America which he had in mind before he started:

"I had a vision of a vast continent full of the most bewitching girls clad in the daintiest costumes, delighted to see me and ready to extend their pretty hands in a natural and unaffected camaraderie only possible in America. Their husbands and brothers, strong, manly, simple folk, I pictured to myself as constantly at work somewhere out of sight, chiefly in Wall street, wherever they was, leaving their wives and sisters free to entertain me and glad to think that they were doing so. I had heard much of the unselfishness of American men."

At first he was somewhat taken aback by the absence of the deference or servility which the "better classes" abroad expect from their "inferiors." Later he became accustomed to it and realized it arises "not from any desire to be rude or offensive, but from a combination of causes—partly from an honest ignorance of what constitutes good manners and partly from a perfectly sincere conviction, gravely entertained, that they are really every bit as good as you are in a country where all social distinctions are supposed to be nonexistent."

But this sense of universal equality disappeared when he came into contact with American "society." He says:

"The so called exclusiveness of these good republicans is an amusing spectacle to those accustomed to the well defined and generally accepted social distinctions of a community governed by monarchical tradition. In America, where no such tradition exists, class distinction depends largely upon the caprice of the very wealthy and resolves itself, as do so many other things in this democracy, into a simple question of dollars. The tenacity with which the ultra fashionables cling together has given American society in America a reputation for exclusiveness which is interesting to contemplate in view of the personalities of most of the excluders. It is all so like a burlesque of our own London 'society.'"

Of the morality of this "society" Sir Burne-Jones has this to say, "My own observations would point to the fact that, childlike, they are fascinated by the idea of playing at being naughty and shocking people, but that in reality they are for the most part excellent citizens."

"That amazing summer playground" Newport baffles his powers of description. He glories in its natural beauties. He wonders at the bad taste displayed in its architecture, declaring that its palaces proclaim the fact that the plutocratic owners in their scramble for wealth have had little time left to devote to the cultivation of the arts in any form. Here is his criticism:

"The palaces of Newport are, in truth, just what you would expect the palaces of Newport to be. They are very costly, very sumptuous, often very ugly, but they admirably fulfill what I take it, is one of their chief reasons d'être, they are the material and visible expression of the possession of vast riches."

Speaking of Chicago, the author says:

"I don't suppose that even its own inhabitants would seriously make excuse for Chicago. It is an ugly, dirty, noisy, wind swept city if ever there was one. Of course I saw it under the most disadvantageous and discouraging conditions and at the very worst time of the year. Still nothing, not even the most brilliant sunshine, could have made it appear beautiful, and one would be a little exacting perhaps to expect that it should be one. The wonder is that the hideous place, so vast and populous as it is, should be in existence at all."

"The street cars here run in doubles, thus multiplying their horrors by two. The skyscrapers appear twice as high as those in New York. Its newspapers are twice as vulgar and in tone twice as deep a yellow. I naturally avoided the stock yards, and if you don't visit these mammoth shambles Chicago has little else to offer you as a public spectacle."

Sacredness of Korean King's Body.

So sacred is the person of the emperor of Korea that to touch his body with a weapon of iron constitutes high treason. Rather than violate this tradition, Tieng Song Tai Ong allowed an assassin to put an end to his life in 1900, believing it would be wrong for him to submit to the surgeon's lancet.

The Rich Man and the Doctor.

"The life of a rich man is worth more than the life of a poor man, and the physician has a right to charge the millionaire more for his services than he does the laborer," is the opinion recently handed down by a Philadelphia judge, who went on to say:

"The physician is unlike the merchant, who has goods of different quality to sell at various prices. He must give his best service in every case. But it does not follow that the service is worth the same in every case."

"Human life has a pecuniary value of variable quantity, greater in the millionaire than in the laborer. Thus the practitioner of common sense makes out his bills to suit the pecuniary circumstances of his patients."

Draft Hunter to Edward VII.

There is an individual attached to the court whose calling we did not find in the directory would come under the heading of "draft hunter." His sole duty is to precede the king and search for drafty places in the hall or room in which the ceremony participated in by his majesty is to be held. If, for instance, King Edward attends a banquet the "draft hunter" visits the room and sees that every precaution is taken for shielding his majesty from the slightest draft.

THE JAPANESE SMILE.

Part of the People's Rudimentary Education, Says a Native.

A RUSSIAN'S VIEW OF THE HABIT.

Captured Midshipman Feels That His Superstitious Countrymen When They Learn of It Will Believe Their Enemies Are Bewitched—Japanese Smile Even When They Kill or Die.

The opinion prevails among the hundred or more prisoners of war who recently arrived at Tokyo from Port Arthur, out of whose icy waters they were rescued and pulled aboard Japanese vessels, that Russia is doomed to lose the war for the reason that the Japanese meet the enemy, face death and inflict death with smiling faces. Among the czar's jockies are several who speak English and the Cincinnati Enquirer's special correspondent was permitted to talk with them in the presence of an imperial officer.

The most intelligent of the crew, a bright midshipman, said:

"I'm afraid that when the great mass of the Russian army learns of this Japanese habit—the great mass that is ignorant and superstitious—our soldiers will think witchcraft is at work. In that event their fighting spirit will evaporate as fear of the supernatural takes possession of them. If any one had told me, I would have thought him romancing, but I was near enough to see for myself. As the mikado's ships advanced, officers and men, as seen through our spyglasses, went about their deadly work with smiles upon their lips. Stern words of command were given and obeyed with the joyous courtesy an invitation to the bar evokes among the average soldier. Smilingly the Japs aimed their guns. Whenever we got a glimpse of the commander on the bridge he seemed to be listening to jokes."

"We heard of Captain Phillips' humane command at Santiago. 'Don't cheer, boys; they are dying,' words that are enshrined in every true sailor's heart, but the Japanese, it seems to me, outdid the gallant captain of the Texas in graciousness at Port Arthur. When the Russian ships were sinking and our men struck out for shore, or any other place of safety, for that matter, the enemy advanced with smiling faces to lend us a brother's helping hand. Indeed, myself and comrades were pulled aboard with such hearty welcome of demeanor as one might expect of the crew of a yachting party engaged in rescuing the owner's guests."

"As we were sent below I saw a Japanese official kill one of our men who had discharged a revolver at him on being brought upon deck. And this act of justice—for I admit such it was—was likewise performed without a trace of anger in mein or manner. The mikado's lieutenant plunged a huge bowie knife in my comrade's abdomen while laughing, not boisterously or triumphantly, but in a serene, courteous manner. This, I have since learned, is a Japanese trait little known to the outside world. To them it means nothing, in warfare at least, but to an enemy such smiling composure is nothing short of terrible."

"The Russian soldier in particular is accustomed to see his commander and superiors grave and severe, frowning even on every sort of pretext. Our troops are used to being overawed. Reflect what it means to them to come face to face with an enemy who batters their ships and harnesses their flanks, who deals death and destruction, apparently in the happiest frame of mind, without effort."

"The great mass of our men will look upon an adversary of that sort as a superior being, as one under a spell, as invincible. Among my fellow prisoners I hear it argued all the time: 'If the Japanese were not conscious of superior strength they would not enter into the fury with such unheeded assurance. Surely, if they didn't know beforehand that they can lick us they wouldn't have that air of mocking merriment.'"

"Think of a charge of a light brigade with each man smiling his best; every corps, after the battle, bearing the stamp of plesantry on pallid lips—why it needs no Tennyson to make such an army a terror far and wide."

The mikado's officer made a sign to indicate that the interview was at an end, and I withdrew not a little astounded and perplexed at what I had heard. Subsequently I talked to a member of the war minister's staff on the subject, who said that with the Japanese soldier the aspect of smiling serenely was a matter of special drill. He said:

"A smiling countenance is in fact a part of our people's rudimentary education, vastly expanded and strictly insisted upon with our boys in blue and the jockies. We don't want morose men; we know that brave deeds can be accomplished without fierce grimaces, and we know, too, that a smiling enemy, suffering wounds and jeopardizing life and limb, is very liable to gain a reputation for bravery and recklessness with opposite forces used to savage demeanor, blasphemy and raving with pain and lust for revenge."

The following explanations of and comments on the Japanese smile that won't come off even in death were gathered from natives and long time foreign residents in the island empire. There are no pleasant babies born anywhere than in Japan. Japanese childhood is cheerful, painless, as far as parents, teachers and superiors in general are concerned; all smiling happiness. Both native and foreign physicians tell me that the Jap baby is born smiling, and education is cal-
